

BLAKE SHELTON ADDS VOICE TEAM MEMBER AND CHAMPION SUNDANCE HEAD TO “DOING IT TO COUNTRY SONGS” TOUR

2017 kicks off with People’s Choice, iHeartRadio award nominations

NASHVILLE, Tenn. – (January 11, 2017) – Platinum-selling recording artist and The Voice’s five-time victorious coach Blake Shelton reaffirms a commitment to his team members, adding Season 11 champion Sundance Head to his 2017 “Doing It To Country Songs” tour. Also performing on the 13-date run is Season 2 contestant, label-mate and Pandora’s 2017 “Ones To Watch” artist RaeLynn, making this tour Shelton’s most Voice-packed endeavor yet.

“I’m excited to get back out on the road and bring new music from If I’m Honest, some previous hits and a few surprises,” said Shelton. “Having RaeLynn on the tour again is terrific, and I’m thrilled Sundance is joining and bringing his incredible musical talents.”

“I’m just elated and really excited about being able to perform with a great entertainer and learn something from him while I’m on the road. It’s going to be the most fun thing I’ve ever done,” added Head.

With this latest announcement, Shelton’s 2017 is already looking bright. In addition to the “Doing It To Country Songs” tour, which will kick off on February 16 in Bakersfield, California and continue through March, the country music superstar recently received People’s Choice Award nominations for Favorite Male Artist, Favorite Male Country Artist and Favorite Album along with a nod from iHeartRadio for Best Lyrics with his No. 1 single “Came Here To Forget.” Shelton wrapped the year with a performance on NBC’s New Year’s Eve with Carson Daly and appearances on Jimmy Kimmel Live!, The Voice and Ellen. His record If I’m Honest, which features his latest Top 3 and climbing single “A Guy With A Girl,” boasts 2016’s biggest first-week country debut and was the year’s best-selling country album.
